

The Church of the Good Shepherd, through the College Flock, exists to equip you for your journey in His Kingdom.

WHO ARE WE?

The College Flock is a devoted community of Duke and UNC undergraduate students who (somehow, despite our rivalry) come together as one to learn and worship at CGS. We seek to equip you to be a thoughtful agent of God's goodness, beauty, and truth as you prepare for citizenship in Christ's kingdom after college. Students will do this by discovering the all-encompassing Christian story of redemption, developing a heart for the Church, and awakening a passion to create and renew the culture.

BENEFITS FOR YOU AS A STUDENT:

- Increased gospel world and life view: depth and sustainability
- Developing a sense of mission for your career
- A heart for cultural renewal
- Opportunities to learn from experienced Christian leaders and guest lecturers
- Mentoring by mature Christian men and women
- Career advice from successful leaders in fields of your vocational interest
- Community-based learning in the local church
- Opportunities to serve in the church and in the cities of Durham and Chapel Hill
- Delicious meals after church!

Q. WHAT ARE THE BELIEFS OF CGS?

A. We are an evangelical congregation affiliated with the Presbyterian Church in America. By evangelical we mean "characterized by the gospel," the message about the seeking and saving Son of God, Jesus Christ, contained in the authoritative Word of God, the Bible. By being part of the PCA we bind ourselves to other churches of like heart who express their understanding of biblical teaching through the Westminster standards. We describe ourselves as evangelical first and Presbyterian second to distinguish essential doctrines from important but non-essential ones.

Q. WHAT IS THE STYLE OF CGS?

A. The motto of our church, reflective of our three purposes, is "worshiping the Shepherd, feeding the flock, and seeking the lost." We believe the following descriptions are helpful guidelines:

Worshiping the Shepherd with simple, joyful reverence

Feeding the flock with intelligent, disciplined love

Seeking the lost with thoughtful, bold sensitivity

RIDE TO CHURCH:

Transportation from East Campus Bus Stop – 9:10 am. This will allow you to attend both 9:30 am College Flock then 11:00 am worship. Please confirm your ride with Rev. Sean Radke at sradke@cgsonline.org

DIRECTIONS TO CGS FROM DUKE:

Take 147 N to US 15-501 S toward I-40/Chapel Hill. Turn right at the Garrett Rd intersection (Mark Jacobson Toyota is on the right) and CGS will be 1/2 mile on the right.

COLLEGE FLOCK

Welcome to Duke!

What is the purpose of college for the follower of Jesus?

"We must avoid a common temptation to think of ...college as mere job training... Your college education is meant to prepare you for prime citizenship in the kingdom of God." -Plantinga

COLLEGE FLOCK TEACHING FELLOWSHIP

Sunday mornings, 9:30 am
Beginning Aug 23

EAT: a free and delicious breakfast of coffee and bagels

LEARN: Through bible courses that seek to instill a learning, loving, and living of the Christian story.

Our goal is to prepare you to live the Gospel – especially in the marketplace of your future vocations.

This involves 6-week teaching units throughout the 9-months. You can jump in midstream and join us at any week.
