

DUKE'S GLOBAL VENTURES

Collaboration or Colonialism?

In recent years Duke has made a number of ventures into worlds well beyond its North Carolina home. Some of these are tentative and rest primarily on individual faculty or student initiative. Some are strategic and corporate, and involve the vision and identity of one or more schools or the university as a whole.

The symposium will address the implications of exporting America's higher education system as Duke and other colleges and universities across the nation work to expand their global presence by creating international outposts of their individual home campuses.

This event is free and open to the public. It is made possible by support from the Matt and Susan Mackowski Fund.

BLAIR SHEPPARD
Dean of the Fuqua School of Business

R. SANDERS WILLIAMS
Senior Vice Chancellor of Duke Medicine and
Senior Advisor for International Strategy for Duke University

RANJANA KHANNA
Margaret Taylor Smith Director of Women's Studies and
Professor of English and Women's Studies

KARLA HOLLOWAY
James B. Duke Professor of English and Professor of Law

Moderators:

SAM WELLS
Dean of Duke Chapel

NOAH PICKUS
Director of the Kenan Institute for Ethics

WEDNESDAY // APRIL 1 // 2009 // 1:30 - 3:30 PM

Alumni Memorial Common Room // Duke Divinity School