

Marie E. Hicks

Ph.D. Candidate
Department of History
Duke University
Durham, NC USA

phone: (919) 270 9143 (US)
or +44 (0)791 359 6434 (UK)
e-mail: meh20@duke.edu
<http://www.duke.edu/~meh20>

EDUCATION

---

Duke University, Durham, NC (2001 to present)

- Currently researching dissertation on British office computerization, 1945-1975
- MA in History (2003) and Graduate Certificate in Women's Studies (2003)
- Preliminary Exam Fields passed spring 2004: History of Technology, Modern Britain, History of Gender, Modern Europe.

Harvard University, Cambridge, MA (1996-2000)

- AB magna cum laude with Highest Honors in major, Modern European History
- Senior Thesis: "The Price of Excellence: Coresidence and Women's Integration at Oxford and Harvard Universities, 1964-1977"
- Courses: Economics, Fine Arts, History, Philosophy, Physics, Research, Women's Studies.
- Overall GPA: 3.8

Oxford University, Oxford, England (1998-1999)

Junior Year Abroad. Studied Modern History with Tutors at St. Peter's College and Corpus Christi College.

EXPERIENCE

---

Historical Researcher and Policy Analyst, Duke Institute for Genomics Sciences and Policy, Center for Genome Ethics, Law and Policy, Duke University, Durham, NC (Summer 2005)

Seminal genomics project researcher. Analyzed genomics sequencing technologies and patenting in order to produce an up-to-date technological, economic, and legal history of the Caltech sequenator.

Web Developer, Department of History, Duke University, Durham, NC (Spring 2005)

Redesigned graduate section of departmental website. Enhanced content and established databases for graduate students to share professional and academic information via the web.

Instructor, Science, Technology, and Society Program, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC (Fall 2004)

Instructor in charge of designing a class for the Contemporary Science, Technology and Human Values requirement and teaching 24 undergraduate students from a range of disciplines in the sciences. My class focused on politics and ethics in relation to automation and labor.

Research Assistant/Faculty Liaison, Department of History, Duke University, Durham, NC (Fall 2004)

Aided in redesigning department's introductory historical methodology class for first-year graduate history students in connection with the Carnegie Initiative on the Doctorate.

Research Assistant, Department of History, Duke University, Durham NC (Spring 2004)

Supplied course materials for team-taught class on American legal and business history.

Teaching Assistant, Department of History, Duke University, Durham, NC (Fall 2003)

Taught sections of Professor Thomas Robisheaux's Early Modern European survey course; devised web media and paper handouts for class.

Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science (EECS), Harvard University,

Cambridge, MA (June 2002-August 2002 and May 2001-September 2001)

UNIX System Administrator. Supported the research environment for EECS professors by maintaining network and systems.

FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS

---

2005-2006	Charles Babbage Institute's Tomash Fellowship in the History of Information Processing
2005	Duke University Graduate School International Research Travel Award
2004	Ernestine Friedl Research Award
2003	Anne Scott Award
2003	Duke University Graduate School Summer Award
2001-2005	James B. Duke Fellowship and Duke Endowment Fellowship for graduate study
1999	Radcliffe Traveling Fellowship
1997-2000	John Harvard Scholarship for Academic Achievement
1997-2000	Elizabeth Cary Agassiz Scholarship for Academic Achievement

PUBLICATIONS

---

Marie Hicks, "Integrating Women at Oxford and Harvard Universities, 1964-1977" in Yards and Gates: Gender in Harvard and Radcliffe History edited by Laurel Thatcher Ulrich (New York: Palgrave Macmillan, 2004).

CONFERENCE PAPERS AND PRESENTATIONS

---

Society for the History of Technology Annual Conference, Minneapolis, Minnesota, November 2005: "Women's Work and the Computerization of British Offices after World War II"

Hagley Fellows Conference, Hagley Institute, Wilmington, Delaware, March 2005: "Electronic Brains for the Office': Conceptions of British Business Computing, 1945-1965"

VISU Vienna Summer Institute Program on Mind and Computation, University of Vienna, July 2002: "Modernity Through Objects: British Office Technologies in Print Advertisements from 1935 to 1960"

History and Memory Conference, Harvard University History Department, April 2000: "Coeducation and the History of Women's Integration at Harvard"

LANGUAGES

---

French and German