

2005 Y.C. YANG
CIVIL ENGINEERING SCHOLARSHIP

Eligibility requirements:

- 1) Any currently enrolled junior or senior civil engineering student at an institution with an ABET-accredited program who will be registered as an undergraduate in fall 2005, is an ASCE National Student Member in good standing, and has an interest in structural engineering may apply for this scholarship. Must be a member in good standing at the time of application and award. Membership applications may be submitted with scholarship application.
- 2) Scholarships may be awarded only to those students who will employ them to continue their formal undergraduate education at an educational institution with an ABET-accredited program.
- 3) Selection is based on appraisal of the applicant's award justification, educational plan, stated interest in structural engineering, academic performance and standing, development potential, leadership capacity, and financial need.

Applications must include:

- Completed application form.
- Personal statement (500 to 1,000 words) addressing why the award should be given to the applicant, interest in structural engineering, and plans for continuing formal education.
- Detailed financial plan. Document the extent of financial need by indicating expenses and income from all sources. Expenses shall include, but not be limited to: tuition, fees, books, living expenses (rent/mortgage, meals, utilities) and miscellaneous expenses (commuting costs, car payments, insurance, previous loan balances). Income shall include but not be limited to salaries and wages from employment, grants and loans, all family support, and military stipend.
- Minimum of two letters of recommendation from faculty members.
- One sealed official transcript for each school attended.
- One-page resumé. Include honors, activities, organizations, ASCE activities (including any offices held), and any work experience.

Procedure:

One complete application package containing one original of all items listed above must be received by ASCE Student Services by February 9, 2005. All items must be collected by the applicant and sent to ASCE Student Services as one complete application package. Application packages missing any of the above items will not be considered.

Award:

Two applicants may be selected for award, which is in the range of $2,000-$2,500. Scholarship funds are to be used for tuition expenses and will be disbursed in the 2005 fall term.
