OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Libraries Associate

May 2005 – May 2006

NC State University, Libraries, Digital Libraries Initiative, Raleigh, NC

Worked collaboratively with Dr. Amanda French to begin the development of the North Carolina Sociolinguistic Archive and Analysis Project (<http://ncslaap.lib.ncsu.edu/>) – an ongoing project to digitize and archive the sociolinguistic interview collection of Dr. Walt Wolfram and the North Carolina Language and Life Project. Developed a model for the linguistic data and software to improve interactions with and storage of audio-based data in general and to develop innovative approaches to sociolinguistic analyses in particular.

Coordinator of Assistive and Information Technology Sept. 2001 – Feb. 2003
NC State University, Information Technology Division and Disability Services for Students, Raleigh, NC
 Coordinated North Carolina State University's initiative to provide access to its information technology resources for students with disabilities. Provided the university with leadership, education, and resources to ensure compliance with disability law and promote the availability of exemplary "barrier free" IT resources. Worked collaboratively with individual students, faculty, and staff to assess technology needs, and recommend appropriate adaptations and accommodations. Worked on the UNC Office of the President's Web Accessibility Steering Committee to develop system wide UNC Web Accessibility strategies and policies and was a principle author of the Committee's report (www.uncfsu.edu/itts/webstyle/Web_Access_Rept_%20rev2.1.doc). Managed large Educational Technology Fund allocation for assistive technologies and access to technology and educational resources. Provided web accessibility presentations, education, resources, and support to the university and greater community.

Web Accessibility Specialist May 2001 – Sept. 2001
NC State University, Information Technology Division and Disability Services for Students, Raleigh, NC
 Worked to ensure the accessibility of North Carolina State University's web-based resources. Provided educational workshops, presentations, resources, and materials on web accessibility. Provided consulting services for individuals and units on accessibility. Worked to provide students with disabilities access to the university's Unix/Linux computing environments. Worked at length with text-to-speech and speech-recognition technologies.

Vice-President, Information Technology & Webmaster Oct. 1999 – Apr. 2001
CertSite, Inc., Durham, NC
 Managed and implemented the development of an Automated, Internet-based Utilization Management Service for the health care industry; worked on-site with clients to meet business needs; tracked industry standards and methods. Development focused on work in Perl with the Apache web-server and MySQL database server and various open-source tool kits (e.g. mod_perl and perl::CGI).

Major Editorial Contributor Jan. 2000 – Mar. 2000
Case Studies on Information Technology in Higher Education: Implications for Policy and Practice
Lisa Ann Petrides, Teachers College, Columbia University, NY, NY
 Edited content and structure of case studies by various researchers and authors to conform to the needs and design of overall volume. Designed case questions and discussion questions to highlight important points.
